Look at the textures and colours Pay attention to the composition of small areas.

Do areas look different and more interesting close up?

When looking closer did you start to notice things you did not see before?

What types of things catch your eye more than others? Colour, texture, patterns?

Take a picture of the big area and then focus on some of the micro areas of interest and take photos, or draw or paint an area. Or write about the differences between the close up and big picture views of the scene.

When working on any of the fun sheets, always make sure you are being aware of your surroundings and not attempting anything dangerous. Children should be supervised by an adult while participating.
