FUNSHEET

13

Do this one with a partner. Go anywhere, inside or out and pick a spot you both agree on. View it through a frame, just cut pieces of paper to make a view finder or just use your fingers to make a rectangle like you see a director do when she is trying to get the right shot for a movie scene. Once you are both looking at the same view...

Write down what you see.

Writing only right now, describe the items in the scene and also don't forget some of the small details.

Now, compare with your partner.

Did you both describe the same things?

What were the differences.

What were the things that one had but the other did not?

Create a pieces that show the differences between your observances.

When working on any of the fun sheets, always make sure you are being aware of your surroundings and not attempting anything dangerous. Children should be supervised by an adult while participating.
